Our New Army Bill—Its Provisions for Education.

AFTER a delay of several months, occupied in the preparation of a near a model Army bill as circumstances would admit, and after numerous consultations with all the leading military minds in the country, the House of Representatives, by a large majority, adopted the new Army bill. In its provisions it differs materially from the old system, and in all things there is an evident improvement. There are a few points to which we desire to call special attention. The following section is worthy of notice:—

Section 24. That for the purpose of promoting knowledge of military science among the young men of the United States, the President may, upon the application of an established college or university within the United States, with sufficient capacity to educate at one time not less than one hundred and fifty male students, detail an officer of the army to act as president, superintendent, or professor of such college or university; that the number of officers so detailed shall not exceed twenty at any time, and shall be appointed through the United States, as nearly as practicable, according to population, and shall be governed by general rules, to be prescribed from time to time by the President.

When the deluge of civil war first swept over our land it found us totally unprepared to buffet with its waves. We were a peaceful people to a positively ridiculous degree. If a man could fire a musket or take aim with a rifle he was considered a proficient tactician, and looked upon as a proper person for a field officer in time of war. If any of our young men desired to learn the rudiments of tactics and the drill, no opportunity was allowed them. Unless they had sufficient influence to secure a West Point appointment, and devote a life to war as a science they were kept completely in the dark. Under the new bill the reform is fully inaugurated, and an inducement held out to our colleges to have such a department added to their curriculum, as a detailed officer will be its professor, and cause no additional expense. If this provision be carried out, another war will not find us unarm'd and unprepared in the use of ploughshares.

Section 35. That whenever troops are serving at any post, garrison, or permanent camp, there shall be established a school where all children may be provided with instruction in the common English branches of education, and especially in the history of the United States, and the Secretary of War is authorized and directed to detail such commissioned and non-commissioned officers as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

We cannot conceive of an article more thoroughly in the spirit of our republican age than the one we quote. The soldier, when discharged will not regard his term of service held as waste time, but will find it of good account hereafter. The last article to which we would call attention is the retirement of veteran officers. It provides for the establishment of a council of officers immediately at Washington, to be composed of every branch of the service, before whom shall come all officers under the rank of brigadier-general, judge of their capacity, and retire such as have been for a certain number of years in the service, or are disqualified either mentally, morally, or physically. Under such a plan we will have the army pruned of all the incompetent, and rid the service of the weight of their useless connection. The last provision will meet with the cordial approval of all:—

And in making such investigations into the fitness of officers to be retained in the service, the said military council and such boards as may at any time be appointed under the provisions of this section, shall take into account the provisions of any law who may have been employed in no active duty in the field during any part of the late war, and shall inquire especially into the reasons for their not being so employed; and any officer whose absence from active field service during the war shall be decided by a board of examiners, after full hearing, to have been on account of his sympathy with the Rebellion or his unwillingness to serve actively against the so-called Confederate States, or any particular State, or the people of any State engaged in rebellion, shall be reported the same as if found morally disqualified for the service.

Disruption of the Louisville Presbytery. The Louisville Presbytery, whose case excited so much discussion in the Old School General Assembly, has broken up, the majority going on in defiance of the Assembly's action, and refusing to recognize its jurisdiction over them, while the minority has formed a new Presbytery, sustaining the action of the Assembly. We presume this ends the affair, except that the contumacious members will probably be formally cut off by the next Assembly. It is far better for the peace and purity of the Church that such miserable traitors as STEARNS and his companions should go out from it than that they should remain in it. The Presbyterian Church has kept its record right and its skirts clear. It has maintained its position nobly, and has stamped the seal of infamy upon the sin of rebellion. The falling off of these secession and secession-sympathizing preachers and churches will add to her moral power in the land. We wish that all other Churches had stood up as bravely to the positions assumed by them during the war.

The Presbyterian Apitment. Several prominent Presbyterian divines in New York and Philadelphia have formally withdrawn from the Presbyterian (Old School) body, on account of the action of the late General Assembly in regard to the Louisville Presbytery. Their congregations go with them.—Louis Republican.

Crops in Southern Illinois. The crops in Southern Illinois (Egypt) are said to be very fine. The wheat harvest has commenced, and the quality of the grain is much superior to that of last year's crop. Potatoes and corn promise finely, while the peach trees and apple trees are bending with their weight of fruit.

Fruit in Louisiana. A NEW ORLEANS letter says fruits are now coming in there in great abundance, and affording much relief. There is a splendid crop of figs, melons, plums, blackberries, etc., while the orange trees hang full.

Foreign News by the "Germania." The news by the steamers, which arrived at New York yesterday, is down to the 12th, and adds materially to previous information. The Prussians had already occupied Danneberg, Harst, and Itzehoe, and would immediately occupy Gluckstadt and Elmshorn, all important points in Holstein. Austria has quietly retired, and the Prussian occupancy of the Duchy is complete, including Altona, on the extreme southern border. The Prussian General-in-chief has appointed Baron SCHRELL PLESSER President of Schleswig-Holstein, and has issued a proclamation against the assembling of the Estates of the Duchies in conformity with the call of Austria. He says that the King of Prussia intends, in conformity with the principles of the unity of both Duchies, to convoke the Estates of Schleswig-Holstein. In order to prepare for this unity the necessary preparations for a convocation have been made.

The Assembly of the Holstein Estates was dispersed on the 11th at Itzehoe, by the Prussian General VON MANTEUFFEL. In the sitting of the Federal Diet of June 11, Austria moved for the mobilization of the army of the whole of the Federal Diet, except the Prussian contingency. In reply to this motion, Prussia declared, in a note to the minor States, that she would regard the Confederacy as dissolved, if the Austrian motion should prevail, and would then allow herself to be guided only by considerations of military expediency.

Prussia has announced her plan of reform, the chief feature of which is the exclusion of Austria from the reconstructed Germany. Austria, on the other hand, now proposes the convocation of a national Parliament, and the establishment of a Directory, to consist of three members. A minister of Hesse Darmstadt had stated in the Legislature that the Federal Diet could soon recognize the Prince of AUGUSTENBURG as Duke of Holstein.

The Austrian Minister has left Berlin, so that amid actual occurrences of war the formal condition of peace is no longer maintained.

In Austria the passport system has been revived, and the Emperor had left for the headquarters of the Army of the North. Austrian influence is visible in Bavaria, where a strong popular feeling against Prussia prevails, and an attempt is being made to cause the King to change his Ministry. The chief effort of Austrian diplomacy will doubtless be to unite as many of the German powers against Prussia as possible.

In Italy, the first article of a bill for the suppression of all religious bodies was adopted by the House of Deputies almost unanimously.

Spain would not to anticipate a general war, as Marshal O'DONNELL has expressed apprehension that she will have to defend her own territory before the year closes.

In Great Britain, the 27 franchise measure, it is thought, will soon pass without further opposition.

The New Tariff. The new Tariff bill has been perfected in committee, and will be reported, and probably passed, in the House of Representatives to-day. Its provisions are eminently "protective"—a large increase of duty being imposed upon most articles of foreign importation. The foreign importations have been so excessive during the past year—the duties alone amounting, up to the 19th inst., to the immense sum of one hundred and sixty-three millions of dollars in gold—that some measures calculated to relieve the country are absolutely necessary. Besides, the pressure of internal taxation is so heavy upon our home manufactures, that under the old tariff rates there has been a real discrimination in favor of foreign articles. The new rates, therefore, though high in themselves, will, really be found, we suspect, in many instances, to be no more protective than has been usual under former tariffs.

The term of office of Senator POMEROY, of Kansas, will expire with the present Congress. The next Legislature is to elect his successor. His chief competitor for the seat is ex-Governor THOMAS CARNEY. General BLUNT, MARCUS J. PARROT, and a host of other and lesser worthies, will not seriously object to the position. Colonel WILLIAM A. PHILLIPS is the best man in the State for the post.

SPEAKER COLFAX is mentioned as a prominent candidate for the United States Senate, to succeed Hon. HENRY S. LANE, the present incumbent, who declines a re-election. Indiana could hardly make a better choice than Mr. COLFAX, whose experience and abilities admirably fit him for the position.

GENERAL LOGAN and GOVERNOR OLESBY are said to be candidates for the seat in the Senate now occupied by Senator TRUMBULL. TRUMBULL himself is a candidate, and it is thought will be re-elected. All these are able and faithful men.

GENERAL C. C. WASHBURN is contesting the Senatorial nomination from Wisconsin with Judge HOWE, the present incumbent. Judge HOWE has proved himself a very able as well as faithful Senator, and we hope he will be re-elected.

GENERAL ROUSSEAU is a candidate for GARRET DAVIS' seat in the Senate. There is not much choice between them. DAVIS, however, has been such an interminable bore, that even ROUSSEAU's bombast might seem a relief.

VALLANDIGHAM still runs the Democratic machine in Ohio. We admire the consistency of the party in sticking to so faithful an exponent of its views, but not its judgment.

JUDGE SHELLEBARGER has been nominated for Congress by the Union men of Greene county, Ohio. He has few superiors in the present House of Representatives.

The total amount of National Bank currency thus far issued is $281,244,460. To secure this the Government holds $326,021,856 in United States bonds.

THE DIFFERENCE.—GENERAL GRAY fought the Rebels in the front; HEISTER CLYMER fought the Union soldiers in the rear.

THERE were $66,284,572 in the United States Treasury on Saturday.

NO MORE of the five-cent notes are to be printed.

A convention of railroad men is in session at Atlanta, Ga., to establish rates for through tickets, etc., on all the roads in Georgia and South Carolina. Representatives from the Louisville and Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad are present.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

OFFICE OF THE EVENING TELEGRAPH, Monday, June 25, 1866. The Stock Market opened very dull this morning, but prices continue steady. In Government bonds there is little or nothing doing. 104 was bid for 6 of 1881; 103 1/2 for 5-20s; 99 1/2 for 10-40s; and 102 1/2 for 7-30s.
